A FREE COMMUNITY NEWSLETTER BRINGING YOU GOOD NEWS ABOUT WILKINSBURG

Wilkinsburg Families Welcomed, Enrolled at Westinghouse

Over the course of six Enrollment Day events in the first two weeks of May, transition social workers from Pittsburgh Westinghouse Academy met with the parents of Wilkinsburg students—who will be attending the Pittsburgh public school in the fall—to answer questions and address concerns about Westinghouse’s program offerings.

Having met many of the students prior to Enrollment Days, the transition

Vacant Home Tour Features Wilkinsburg History, Assets and Potential

The second Wilkinsburg Vacant Home Tour was held last month, bringing together local historians, residents, and experts in vacant property acquisition and rehabilitation. The tour was hugely successful with over 500 people in attendance. Additionally, the two Tools & Resource Workshops, which were held during the tour, were at capacity prior to the event. The workshops focused on vacant property acquisition and rehabilitation. Through the WCDC’s event listing, several workshop seats were able to be reserved specifically for Wilkinsburg residents interested in these topics.

Similar to last year, this year’s tour was also widely received by the media, including a story and video from WPXI’s Lisa Sylvester, a feature on 90.5 WESA, and an article in NextCity, an international publication focused on social, economic, and environmental

Walk for Peace

Their Own Worlds: Artwork by Norman Brown, Gabe Felice, Masha Vereshchenko, and Tommy Werner is an exhibit that opens at Percolate Art Space, 317 Trenton Ave., Wilksburg, on Saturday, May 29, 6-9 p.m.

Four imaginative artists, each with their own unique, colorful and identifiable styles. The artwork pictured is by Norman Brown, an elder statesman of the African-American art community in Pittsburgh. This show is sure to delight everyone. Children are welcome.

Percolate Art Space exhibitions are always free and open to the general public. The gallery is open every Saturday from 12-4 p.m., and by appointment, 412.606.1220. The exhibit runs through June 25.

St. Mark's 6th Annual Community Day

St. Mark AME Zion Church members invite the community of Wilksburg to their Sixth Annual Community Day on July 16 from 10 a.m.- 4 p.m. at 807 Ross Street, Wilksburg, PA. 15221. Everything is free to the community, including prayer, hair cutting, clothing giveaway, entertainment for everyone, and refreshments.

For more information, contact Doris Strothers at 412.855.8087 or contact the church at 412.241.7699.

Community Unity Day

Community Unity day this year is Saturday, July 2 in Hunter Park from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. MADDADS is celebrating its tenth year and will be a part of the Community Unity festivities. There will be games for the children and plenty of food for the family. Pack a basket and come out and see old friends, or better yet, make new friends.

Historical Society Meeting June 20

The Wilksburg Historical Society will host "Why Wilksburg Celebrated" a program to recognize the 100th anniversary of the 1916 Borough improvements.

It was June 1916 when Wilksburg finished a three-year project to raise the railroad tracks, lower the streets in the track area, dedicate the beautiful new railroad station on Hay Street and unveil the Lincoln Statue.

A massive parade was part of the celebration as residents rejoiced over the elimination of grade crossings. The story of the dangerous train tracks and the creation of a new train station will be the topic of a slide presentation at the next meeting of the Wilksburg Historical Society on Monday evening, June 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the South Avenue United Methodist Church, using the left Ross Avenue entrance. Guests are always welcome and the meeting is free to attend.

Input Needed on Community Projects

All residents and business owners are invited to an open meeting of the Wilksburg Arts and Community Design Commission, Thursday, June 16, at 6:30 p.m. at 605 Ross Ave., 2nd floor. Commissioners will be discussing two important community projects: the installation of a new public mural at Wallace Ave. and Pitt St. and the Office of Public Art/Neighborhood Allies Public Art and Placemaking Project that is currently underway in the borough. The Borough Has a Lot Going on This Summer

OLIO [oh-lee-oh], noun

1. a dish of many ingredients. 2. mixture of heterogeneous elements; hodgepodge. 3. medley or potpourri, as of musical or literary selections; miscellany.

This month, there is an olio of announcements and information. With apologies to George Gershwin, it's summertime, and the Borough is busy! Here are a few of the happenings:

June 16 ∞ Art in the Park

Art in the Park is back! The Penn Avenue Parklet is the place for live music, activities and food trucks. Music starts at 6:30 each Thursday evening for 10 weeks.

July 2 ∞ Community Day

From 11 a.m.-7 p.m. in Hunter Park, this free, annual celebration is a great time to gather with friends and neighbors and enjoy a hot dog or two!

July 16 ∞ Dream City Art

Dream a little dream—the second Dream City Art Walk/Studio Tour promises to be even bigger!

Last year's walking tour, named after an amusement park located in Wilkinsburg from 1908-1916, featured 45 artists in 10 sites with pop-up spaces, installation art, and hands-on workshops. Free.

And a few reminders:

Grass

By Borough code, property owners are responsible for keeping the grass and weeds cut to a maximum height of 10 inches. Long grass and weeds harbor rodents, and invite litter, so keep yours trimmed!

Compost

Still need some compost to help control the weeds in your garden? Contact the Borough at 412.244.2905 for more information.

Compost is free to Borough residents; delivery of full truckloads is available for a fee.

Finally, two announcements:

New Clerk/Secretary

Moses Workman has joined the Borough as clerk/secretary in the Borough's Administrative Office.

Moses is a Wilkinsburg resident, the father of two, and most recently worked for Google.

He just completed the requirements to be a notary and will provide notary services for Wilkinsburg residents. Stop by and say "hello" if you're in the building.

Scavenger Hunt

Look for a Borough building Scavenger Hunt in the special July issue of the Wilkinsburg Sun, which will be printed on the linotype press at Tip Type and timed to coordinate with the Dream City Art Walk.

Landmarks Preservation Resource Workshops

Events are free to PHLF members; $5 for non-members. RSVP Marylu@phlf.org or 412.471.5808 ext. 527. Located at 744 Rebecca Avenue, Wilkinsburg:

WCDC Celebrates Business Workshop Graduates

Last month, the WCDC and partners had the opportunity to celebrate 19 entrepreneurs who graduated from the spring Business Planning Workshop. The workshop, which was led by WCDC Business Development Specialist, Gordon Manker, follows the CORE FOUR Business Planning Course® approach, which is geared toward both aspiring and existing business owners.

The course focuses on four fundamental elements of business planning:

- 1 Business success
- 2 Meeting the needs of the marketplace

- 3 Business cash flow needs
- 4 How the business will operate

In total, 16 businesses, including four start-ups, were represented in the spring 2016 class. The WCDC looks forward to continuing to work with these entrepreneurs as they continue to grow and thrive. Congratulations!

For all the photos from the graduation, check out bit.ly/1Tb45jp.

If you're an entrepreneur or you just want to learn more about the WCDC's business support programs and upcoming opportunities, call (412) 727-7855 or email gordon@wilkinsburgcdc.org.

The WCDC's business support programming is supported by the POISE Foundation, Neighborhood Allies, Hosanna House, Wilksburg Chamber of Commerce, and the Mansmann Foundation.

Wilksburg House & Garden Tour 2016 Planning Underway

Do you want to get involved with the Wilksburg House & Garden Tour this year? The WCDC is currently seeking committee members to help plan the tour, homeowners who are willing to show their home on the tour, event sponsors, day-of volunteers, and vendors. This year's tour will take place on Saturday, September 24 in and around the historic Hamnett Place neighborhood. If you're interested in helping out, please email marlee@wilkinsburgcdc.org or call 412.727.7855.

To support the WCDC, send a tax-deductible contribution to 1001 Wood St., Wilksburg, PA 15221
OR donate online at wilkinsburgcdc.org

Last Class of WHS Commences with Leaders

Remy L. McIntyre, a member of the graduating class, plans on leaving her name behind in the history of her school before it closes this year. Remy, this year's valedictorian, Remy was inducted into the National Honor Society in 2014. This past January, she was also inducted into the National Society of High School Scholars and became a winner of the Comcast Leaders and Achievers Scholarship. She is a three-year member of the Youth Works Alumni after-school program and Pittsburgh's Pearl Club, a sisterhood program.

Remy has been accepted to Delaware State University, Central State University, and Cheyney University, but she chose her dream school. She will be attending Temple University in the fall to study psychology.

Since first attending Wilkinsburg in the seventh grade, she has made high honor roll consecutively every year with a GPA of 3.7. She is the last valedictorian to graduate in the history of Wilkinsburg High School in the spring of 2016. Remy is proud of her school and her senior class, and is excited for what her future will hold.

Viviana L. Lugo was the salutatorian of the class. Viviana, a bilingual student who only moved to Wilkinsburg from New York last year, was a member of the National Honor Society and Pep Club, and volunteered in the library after school.

Carletta Dixon graduated with a Certificate from Forbes Road Career and Technical Center. Her studies were focused on advertising design.

A familiar face served as commencement speaker, as the seniors voted to request that Mr. Jason Boll to serve in that role. Mr. Boll was an English teacher in the Wilkinsburg School district up until the 2014-2015 school year. Mr. Boll said that he is honored to have been chosen by the students, many of whom he taught in seventh and eleventh grades.

The Wilkinsburg High School class of 2016 commencement exercises were Friday, June 3. The following students graduated:

Wilkinsburg and Westinghouse Kids Participate in Joint School Student Leadership Program

Wilkinsburg School District and Pittsburgh Westinghouse Academy recently launched a joint student leadership program, selecting student leaders from both Wilkinsburg and Westinghouse to serve on three different committees: transition activity planning, conflict resolution & mediation and new student orientation.

For the first time, student committee members are meeting after school to get to know one another and discuss the upcoming year.

They were chosen based on application submissions and teacher input and will continue to meet for over the course of the school year, summer break and into the new school year.

In tribute to Tiger and Bulldog pride, Pittsburgh Westinghouse Academy is designating a space within their building as the "Paw Center," a place where student leaders will be able to hold future committee meetings and activities.

social workers were able to have one-on-one personal conversations with their parents and walk them through enrollment paperwork.

One parent said, "It went well. They were so nice." When asked about how her son felt about going to a new school, she said he was nervous but "went to the Westinghouse student orientation and had a good time."

The transition social workers visited each school—Kelly Elementary, Turner Elementary and the Wilkinsburg Middle and High School—twice in the two week span, but parents unable to attend any of Enrollment Day events can schedule meetings by appointment.
